TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 5.

STRANGE SCENE IN A CHURCH.—The announcement that an incident that had happened on a previous Sunday in Gothic Methodist Episcopal Church, Grand street, Williamsburg, would be detailed on in a sermon on temperance by Rev. M. L. Scudder attracted a large audience to his church last evening. Taking as a text the words, "Who hath woes, who hath sorrow, who hath red eyes? Those that tarry long at the wine," the pastor delivered the annual sermon on temperance enjoined by the discipline of the denomination.

In course of his sermon he related the incident of a young man, son of a neighboring divine, who had, on the Sunday evening previous, entered the church while intoxicated, and at the close of the service, rose and requested the prayers of the congregation to assist him in the prayer meeting and requested the prayers of the speaker and those present. Then referring to the advantages the young man enjoyed, he asked who was responsible for such a state of affairs, and pointed to the moral to be drawn from such an affecting spectacle.

When the remarks were concluded the young man arose for the third time, and though evidently under the influence of liquor, stated that he was responsible, but desiring to conquer the taste and desire for the intoxicating cup he requested of his request for the prayers of the congregation that he might reform and again take up his cross as a Christian and follower of the Lamb.

The affair is the sensation of the hour in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth wards.—N. Y. Herald.
